BLEND THE WISDOM

Support Your Animals Naturally
with the Use of Essential Oils

YOUNG LIVING®
ESSENTIAL OILS

ESSENTIAL OILS assist our animals and people with overall health by providing energetic balance through the sense of smell. Essential oils provide an energetic vibration derived from the natural properties in the plants to support the body.

Healing Touch for Animals® (HTA) recommends Young Living Essential Oils because of the company's dedication to the purity of their products. Young Living closely monitors how the plants are grown, harvested, distilled and packaged. Their commitment to the complete process is called "Seed to Seal". www.SeedtoSeal.com

LIFESTYLE

Young Living offers excellent supplements, household cleaners and personal care products infused with essential oils, which all support a healthy lifestyle.

THREE MAIN WAYS TO USE ESSENTIAL OILS WITH ANIMALS

1. Inhalation – Place 1-2 drops in the palm of your hands. Rub them together, offer them to the animal and allow them to approach. Another way to use the inhalation application is with a cold air diffuser.
2. Topical – Place 1-3 drops of essential oil in your palm. Rub them together, start behind the ears and stroke gently hand over hand down the spine. *Adding essential oils while applying HTA's Vibrational Grooming™ technique is an excellent way to apply the oils topically while supporting your animals energetically.
3. Ingestion – Essential oils can be used as a dietary supplement. Consult a veterinarian for specific instructions.

GENERAL PRECAUTIONS

Due to animals heightened sense of smell and expanded energy field, using less oil is more effective and supportive. When using oils with birds, cats and pocket pets, avoid using oils with a high phenol content such as Oregano, Wintergreen, Cinnamon and Clove. As a rule with all animals, do not apply around the eyes, ear tips, inside the ears, on the pads or between toes, and always dilute oils that contain a high phenol content. Additional information about phenol's and specific essential oils can be found in most complete essential oil reference books.

SINGLE OILS VS. BLENDS

Single essential oils are made from one plant source. Blended essential oils are a series of single oils that, through scientific research, bring about a specific affect.

SHELF LIFE

Pure essential oils do not typically expire when stored correctly. Store essential oils in a cool, dark location avoiding extreme temperatures.

CARRIER OILS

Carrier oils are naturally derived from vegetables and nut sources and have a neutral smell. Carrier oils are an excellent medium for dilution and application; however, they do have a shelf life and can become rancid. Carrier oils you may already have in your home include: Olive oil, Apricot oil and Vegetable oil.

Join the Healing Touch for Animals® Young Living Team

Essential oils are a part of the HTA program and are introduced at Levels 1 and 2. At Levels 3, 4 and Advanced Proficiency there are more extensive studies, applications and guidelines which prompt many students to join the HTA Young Living Team.

LIST OF ESSENTIAL OILS INTRODUCED BY LEVEL:

Level 1 – Lavender, Copaiba, Frankincense

Level 2 – Peace & Calming®, Valor®, Stress Away™

Level 3 – The Top 20 Essential Oils for an HTA Practice are introduced and used during class as well as an additional 20 oils which support our animals & their people.

Level 4 – 28 additional oils are introduced which create a comprehensive understanding on how these natural tools support the body in many life situations.
